

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS FROM COLLEGIATE CHALLENGE ALTERNATIVE SPRING BREAK INITIATIVE 2017, RATE THEIR VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE WITH ST. LUCIE HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

The following email message was received from Habitat Int'l on Monday, May 08, 2017 11:48 AM

Collegiate Challenge participants for this year's Spring Break trips were asked “Based on your recent Habitat for Humanity Collegiate Challenge trip, how likely are you to recommend Habitat for Humanity Collegiate Challenge trips to a friend or a colleague?” The rating scale was 0-10, with 10 being “Very likely and 0 being “Not Likely”. Participants were then asked “What is the most important reason for your score?”

The average likelihood to recommend Collegiate Challenge based on all responses is 9.58.

The score for your affiliate is 10.

| 10 | Habitat is very well organized. There's always someone on site guiding you and teaching you how to do tasks. Not to mention, our guides were super friendly and fun. Additionally, we thought we would be responsible for our meals for the week, and our coordinator went out of her way to get some meals provided for us. She also got us tickets to the National Navy Seal Museum for something for us to do when we weren't |
| 10 | People (Ariel Alonso, Donna Lea Askman, Jim Braxton) and how they related to so well to our group. They're amazing!!   |
| 10 | The people that we interacted with and the great work that they are doing in St. Lucie county.   |
| 10 | The people we worked with were so welcoming, kind and helpful.   |
| 10 | The staff was amazing. So personable and just great people. They went above and beyond for us in making sure we felt comfortable and at home. I have been on 10 mission trips throughout my life with different organizations and this one has been the best one. Thank you Habitat for Humanity St. Lucie for your amazing hospitality and friendships. I will be back.   |
| 10 | The trip was well organized and the staff supportive, knowledgeable, and kind.   |
